ANNUAL LEAVE

You shall be entitled to:-

Probationary Period	Pro-rata basis
1 year but less than 2 years of service	12 working days per calendar year
2 years but less than 5 years of service	14 working days per calendar year
5 years and above of service	16 working days per calendar year

An employee under probation shall be entitled to proportionate or pro-rated annual leave, provided the employee has undergone at least three (3) months of service. Approval for any leave taken during your probationary is at the discretion of the Management.

In normal circumstances, application for leave shall be submitted to your respective superior, on the prescribed form, not less than five (5) days prior to the proposed date of commencement of leave, for approval. You shall not go on leave without first having the application approved.

The Company reserves the right to recall you when you are on leave if nature of the situation requires you to be back on duty.

Under most circumstances, you are not allowed to take leave in advance or excess of your entitlement during any one (1) year, at the time of your application, unless approved by the Management on compassionate grounds.

For administrative purposes, annual leave shall be calculated based on calendar year and for the purpose of such calculation, a period of 15 days or more shall be taken as one (1) month.

When your employment ends, if the number of days annual leave you have taken exceeds your prorate entitlement for the holiday year, an appropriate deduction will be made from your final pay.

Any leave balance outstanding in your name may be enclosed subject to the discretion of the management. If you are summarily dismissed, or leave the Company without giving due notice under your contract of employment, your entitlement to holiday pay ends with the date of termination.

A full-time employee may carry forward a maximum of five (5) days of unused annual leave to the following calendar year. Any annual leave carried forward must be fully utilized by 30 April of the following year. Any carried-forward annual leave that remains unutilized after 30 April will be forfeited, and no payment in lieu shall be made for such unutilized leave.
